

We value public input and hope that this legislation sparks a new conversation within Columbus as to how we can address our looming crisis in a way that supports the mission of Housing For All. These policies are not set-in-stone; they are a starting point in a dialogue between council and the public. Each Councilmember will be leading a policy initiative in collaboration with the rest of the City Council Team. This is a collaborative effort, not just amongst those at City Hall, but with the entire Columbus Community.
